SCHOOL BOARD, SURVEY COMMITTEE SPONSOR ARTICLE FOR NEW SCHOOL

By unanimous vote of the seven members of the School Board present at the first meeting under Open Meeting Law, Tuesday night at the Industrial Arts School, two articles will be entered into the Annual Town Warrant seeking construction of an elementary school in the Fessenden Avenue or Turkey Hill section of Arlington. The articles will be jointly sponsored by the School Committee and the School Survey Committee.

The motion to insert the articles made by School Committee member Carl Allen calls for the construction of a 16 room structure with two kindergarten rooms.

At the same time, the Board voted on motion of Mrs. Porteus to insert a second article to ask taking by eminent domain a plot of land adjacent to the proposed construction area now containing three cellar holes to be used as a playground.

One article will call for the formation of a committee made up of the Town Manager, two members of the School Committee, two members of the Survey Committee and another resident of the Town to be appointed by the Town Moderator and the appropriation of some $25,000 to bring in exact workable plans and specifications, which could make possible getting the proposed project ready for bids by 1960.

When queried as to the status of a possible Route 3 in the area by School Committeeman Charles Kent, Chairman of the School Survey Committee, Donald Johnston stated, "We can't wait, the growth in the area is fantastic." Johnston added that from the best possible sources, the committee has understood that Route 3 will not interfere with the school. Johnston stated that as an al-

M. N. Stratton Not To Seek School Bd. Post

M. Norcross Stratton will not be a candidate for re-election to the Arlington School Committee. Surveyors In Morningside Nothing Unusual, Says DPW

A spokesman for the State Department of Public Works told this paper this week that the fact that surveyors were in the Morningside area was nothing unusual.

He stated that it is a common happening when roads have been discussed for certain areas.

He added that hearings would be held before any definite action is taken and that Town officials in the communities concerned would be notified.

The Arlington Board of Selectmen this week wrote to the S.D.P.W. concerning the matter.

To Investigate

The Department of Public Works has informed the Board of Selectmen in a letter signed by Edward J. McCarthy, Chief Engineer that the matter relative to traffic conditions on Route 2 near Lake Street in Arlington, has been referred to him and that it will be investigated and recommendations submitted based on the result of an investigation.

Relocation Plans Solidified At Joint Meeting Monday

Positive steps were taken at a meeting of the Board of Selectmen Monday relative to the relocation of Mystic Street, and the Board has written to the Development Commission asking that group to give the Bruce Campbell Associates Engineering Consultants the go-ahead to bring in complete estimates in the near future on all costs including actual relocation and grading of the Russell Common.

At the same time, Articles have been inserted in the Town Warrant for Town Meeting vote on the following: demolition of the Old Town Hall, regrading and surfacing of Russell Common, installation of parking meters in the Common, rezoning of the Common to business A, relocation of Mystic Street under Chapter 90, and request for the Selectmen to enter agreement for a railroad crossing at grade.

After the Board receives authorization from the Town Meeting, the next step will be to obtain approval of the crossing at grade from the DPW and DPU.

Still unresolved between the Railroad and the Town of Arlington relative to the crossing at grade is the question of cost of installation of traffic light signals. Total cost of installation including signs are to be born by other (Continued on page two)

A Poem

There once was a typist named Jane
Who decided her job was a pain
She said to herself
If I stay on this shelf
I will probably wind up insane!

So one day she picked up the phone
Called Hood's and made herself known
She came in and then
She was happy again.
She's still here and her troubles have flown.

If your typing is good like Jane's, why not call us at CH 2-0600. Ask for Marcia

United Church Women Hold Annual Meeting

The United Church Women of Arlington held their Annual Meeting at the Trinity Baptist Church January 9 with a coffee hour at 9:30 a.m.

Mrs. William Wells, Spiritual Life Chairman conducted the Devotional Service.

The Annual Reports of the officers and chairmen were read.

Mrs. Stanley E. Clarke, State Chairman of Leadership Education gave a detailed and extremely interesting talk on the 8th National Assembly which was held in Denver, Colorado.

Mrs. Clarke also installed the following newly elected officers and chairmen:

President, Mrs. Norman Walkinshaw; vice-president, Mrs. Raymond F. Farrar; secretary, Mrs. Gordon Thompson; treasurer, Mrs. Ralph D. Kinney; chairman, Christian World Relations, Mrs. Nils Alsen; chairman, Christian Social Relations, Mrs. James Daley; chairman of Finance, Mrs. Earl E. Brown; chairman of Spiritual Life, Mrs. William Wells; chairman, Protestant Guild for the Blind, Mrs. Anne Gibson.

A musical program consisted of Mrs. Bettina Douglas, soloist and Mrs. Ethel Hunter, accompanist. Mrs. Walkinshaw announced that the World Day of Prayer will be held at the Unitarian Church on Friday, February 13 at 9:30 p.m.

The Lenten Breakfast will be held February 11, at 9:30 a.m. at the Trinity Baptist Church.

Guest Speaker at the Annual Meeting of the Arlington Council of Churches Sunday, was Dr. Olivia Pearl Stokes, director of the Department of Religious Education of the Massachusetts Council of Churches.

No Payment

In a letter to Town Manager Edward C. Monahan, dated January 7, relative to high pressure gas lines, Superintendent of Public Works Francis N. O'Hara stated:

"It is my contention that since no remuneration is received by a municipality for the use of their public ways, for the installation of a profit making gas transmission company, and because said public ways are public property, and because any cost incurred by the municipality in the alteration or relocation of the above gas lines would be incurred by every taxpayer, no payment for said alteration or relocation should be made by any municipality.

"In the case of private individuals developing new lands or enlarging present developments and extending existing streets or installing new streets, the cost should be borne by them as a part of the total cost of their developments. However, the town or municipality is not a profit making organization, and any cost incurred in the relocation of gas mains should be borne by the gas company."

CO-CHAIRMAN

Edward Harrington, 18, Wellesley road, Arlington is co-chairman of the Campton Club's pre-lenten Starlight dance to be held on Friday, January 30, at the 1200 Beacon street Motel, Brookline.

Dancing from 9 until one will be to the Ken Reeves orchestra and all are invited. Proceeds benefit the Jesuit foreign Missions.

BIDS LOW

Eight of the 14 bids received at the State Department of Public Works for the Pleasant street Chapter 90 project were less than the office estimate of $49,353.50. Low bid was submitted by the S. Rotundi and Sons Company, $44,663.05.

Seek Automatic Fire System In All Schools

Among the articles which will appear in the Annual Warrant in March is one seeking connection of a fire alarm system direct to the fire station in ten of Arlington's 15 school buildings. Total cost of such a project would be $3800.

At the present time five schools are already connected on an automatic system.

The schools which are not connected automatically at this time include the Crosby, Hardy, Parmenter, Junior West, Junior East, Industrial Arts, Cutter, Locke, Deane, and Bishop.

A report of a survey made by the Gamewell Company in conjunction with Lester W. Cameron, Assistant Superintendent of Fire and Police Signal Systems, Fire Chief Thomas H. Egan, George H. Greim, supervisor of Maintenance and Custodians it was noted that there are ten schools which do not have direct contact through the existing alarm system with the fire department when the interior fire alarm is activated, and this could cause through forgetfulness a long delay in the fire department responding to a fire which has proven very disastrous in the recent Chicago school fire.

The above quote was taken from a letter signed by Mr. Cameron, Mr. Greim and Chief Egan to Town Manager Edward C. Monahan.

Continuing the letter explained, "Therefore, it is recommended that immediate procedure be taken to provide funds at the next annual Town Meeting for converting the existing manual interior fire alarm systems in the ten specified schools to an automatic call system, which will provide immediate contact with the fire department when an inside fire alarm station is activated."

Quotable Quotes

Excellent questions come out of many joint mtgs. such as the one held Monday among the Railroad, the Development Commission, The Planning Board, Blumenthal Associates, the Town Manager, and the Board of Selectmen.

A few "quotable quotes" from this meeting follow:

Selectman Rawson: "Is there a chance that traffic will be taken off in Arlington?"

Engineer MacMillan of the B. and M.: "There are no present plans to cut the Lexington branch."

Development Commission member Mirak: "If the Town had more information on the railroad's future plans, Arlington could plan better."

Mirak: "An appraisal should be taken to see if the railroad is an asset or liability to Arlington."

APPROVED

The Board of Selectmen Monday approved, on motion of Arthur D. Saul, the recommendation of the acceptance of Memorial way as a public way and at the same time on motion of Daniel Buckley voted down the acceptance of Fremont court as a public way.

than the Railroad and crossing protection and signal devices costs are to be paid by the Town. Total costs of labor are to be borne by parties other than the railroad.

Mr. McMillan, Engineer for the Boston and Maine, stated that the railroad is assuming that the DPU may require a watchman.

Mr. Blumenthal of Blumenthal Associates asked if the light signals couldn't be totally automatic.

McMillan stated that they could be if shown to be safe.

The B and M engineer also added that if the signals could be tied in with the town, then the railroad might stand the cost.

Town Manager Monahan asked if the railroad would agree to reimburse Town if after man and signals were found to be needed the Town pay cost of lights and if the D.P.U. would then allow elimination of the man. McMillan's answer was he would have to ask his superiors.

At the same time Town Engineer Roby informed those present that no ledge was found in the Russell Common.

According to Mr. Hendricks of Blumenthal Associates the Common will thus be at grade with Mystic street, Medford street, and the church property, but that a wall will be necessary on the Chestnut street side. Entrance to the area will be gained from Mystic street and Medford street.

The area will be lighted and parking meters will be installed. Present at the Monday meeting were the members of the Board of Selectmen, Town Manager Monahan, Mr. Blumenthal and Mr. Hendricks of Blumenthal Associates; Mr. Byrne of the Planning Board; Mr. Lgoe, Mr. McMahon, Mr. Mirak, and Mr. Ahern of the Development Commission, and Mr. MacMillan and Mr. Nee of the Railroad.

The figure was reached after liabilities of $111,836.19 which included uncollected taxes had been subtracted from the total asset figure of $986,503.

A year ago the free cash figure was $892,024.87 after liabilities had been subtracted.

Some $450,000 of this amount is usually held in the excess and deficiency fund by the Town in case of emergency.

The remainder is used to offset the tax rate for the most part.

ternative to construction of the school, the kindergarten system in the Town could be eliminated.

In answer to a question posed by School Committeewoman Mrs. Porteus, Superintendent of Schools Hall stated that unless a new school is constructed, some two-patrolling might be necessary.

The State School Building Assistance Committee has already approved the location.

Mr. Johnston stated that the construction of such a school would handle the problem in the area in the foreseeable future unless Arlington annexed part of Winchester.

In other action the Committee voted to take from its budget the sum of $8500 for construction of a maintenance area in the high school building. It is understood that this figure will come under a separate article to be inserted by the High School Building Committee.

The Committee also voted to take from its budget the sum of $850 for requested purchase of two 16 m.m. sound projectors.

Some twenty-two residents were present at the meeting.

This has been a busy week in Arlington circles, what with announcements of articles to be inserted, first open school board meeting, Chamber of Commerce meeting, etc.

Announcement of candidates seeking political office stood up this week. However, withdrawals or to be more specific "non-filing of papers" announcements took the spotlight.

The big news of course, was that Mr. Stratton would not seek re-election and it seems certain that Mrs. Boyd will not, thus leaving two spots open in the school committee contest. One candidate took out school committee papers this week.

Although he had not taken out papers in Arlington at press time it was understood that James W.

Daily, Churchill avenue, would seek a school committee post.

Three or four candidates have filed papers, but the complete list will be available next week.

Former Representative Henry Keenan as announced this week he will not seek the assessor's post and it is expected that another surprising development may take place next week even after papers are filed in another contest.

And — under jobs we'd hate to have, The Democratic Town Committee will meet this week. Who will it back for Town Clerk?

Alerts Aliens To Register This Month

Gov. Foster Furcolo (seated) meets with Federal and State officials as he signs proclamation designating January as Alien Address Report month urging citizens to assist aliens in reporting their addresses as required of aliens each January.

Left to right, standing: John F. Mulcahy, District Director, Federal Immigration Service, Charles C. Davies, Regional Commissioner (Northeast), Federal Immigration Naturalization Service, Burlington, Vt.; Mrs. Theo. K. Tattan, Director, Massachusetts Division of Immigration and Americanization; Mr. E. Francis Le Vin, Investigator, Federal Immigration Service; Mr. William J. Lyons, Deputy Clerk, U. S. District Court, Boston, Mass.

The Division of Immigration and Americanization of the Department of Education, with its main office at Room 208, 73 Tremont Street, Boston, and its district offices at Fall River, Lawrence, Springfield and Worcester, assist aliens to fill out forms required of them by Federal law and assists many aliens throughout the State in filling their Alien Address Report cards during the month of January.

The workers of the Division, many of whom speak languages, help the aliens to fill out the forms.

The law under which the Division operates directs that the Division use such methods consistent with law as will bring the Commonwealth and its residents of foreign origin into sympathetic and mutually helpful relations.

At least 129,000 aliens are expected to register in this State.

Poison Prevention

No parent need be reminded of the inquisitive nature of a child between the ages of 1 and 5. At this age a child is busily engaged in exploring the wonderfully new and strange world around him. And unless precautions are taken, his explorations may have tragic results.

Last year, according to the National Safety Council, nearly 1400 persons died from accidental poisoning in the U.S. Over one-third of the victims were children under five years of age. It is also estimated that an additional 250,000 non-fatal poisonings occur each year—many causing permanent injuries to throat, esophagus, liver and brain.

There are hundreds of products on the market today that may contain ingredients poisonous to a child; cosmetics, polishes, paints, (especially lead-containing), hair preparations, insecticides and many others.

So many new products are being introduced annually, the medical practitioner finds it increasingly difficult to keep abreast of the toxicity and treatment of even a small percentage of them.

In response to the need for such information, the Boston Poison Information Center was organized in 1964. Located at the Children's Medical Center, 300 Longwood Ave., Boston, the resources of the Center include a card file giving the trade names, ingredients, toxicity and treatment of nearly three thousand retail items, many reference textbooks, a reprint file and a list of about 25 local volunteer consultants with special knowledge in fields such as insecticides, botanical, chemical toxicology, etc. Telephone consultants service is provided on a 24-hour basis for physicians and the general public.

The foremost concern of the Poison Information Center today is, of course, in the area of poison prevention. Better labeling of poisonous substances can help the physician and alert the parent, but it will not prevent a small child from sampling them. Only a locked door will do that. Therefore, the ultimate responsibility for poison prevention lies within the home itself and on the shoulders of the parent.

It has been estimated that if barbiturates, salicylates and kerosene alone were made unavailable to children, two-thirds of the present mortality could be eliminated.

The Information Center advises a first step to insure that poisonous substances lurking in the home are safely put out of reach. Below is a list of the most dangerous areas in and around the house and some of the poisons which may be found there:

KITCHEN - about the sink - soaps, detergents, lye, etc. Elsewhere in the kitchen—silver polishes, furniture polishes, waxes, shoe cleaners and polishes, wines and liquors, bleaches, dry cleaning solutions, window cleaners. If kerosene stoves are used, eliminate drip cans.

BATHROOM—the medicine cabinet should be out of reach and preferably locked. A minimum of drugs should be kept in the house. Particular care should be taken with barbiturates, aspirin, digitalis, eye drops, antispasmodics, reducing pills and opiates.

CELLAR-WORKSHOP - paints (especially lead-containing) turpentine, kerosene, paint removers and paint brush cleaners and methyl alcohol.

GARAGE - insecticides, fertilizers, gasoline, kerosene, antifreezes, fire extinguishers and fireworks.

GARDEN - poison ivy, wild mushrooms, insecticides and weed-killers.

As a further precaution, here are four rules which the Poison Information Center lists for parents who discover that their child has swallowed something which may be toxic:

1. Don't panic.
2. Call your family doctor immediately.
3. Save the label for identification.
4. No first-aid measures, except as prescribed by a doctor.

Parker-Buckley Backers Note Proven Ability To Serve Town

If the proven ability to serve the Town wisely and well is a prime requisite for a holder of public office, then John O. Parker and Timothy J. Buckley amply merit the requirement. This is the opinion of the group of citizens who have urged them to run and are supporting them in their respective contests for Selectman and Town Clerk. Both men are widely known and respected for their outstanding records of service to the Town.

John O. Parker, candidate for Selectman, is forty-six years old and has been an Arlington resident for over forty years. He is a graduate of the Arlington schools, Boston College, and Harvard Law School. He has been a practicing attorney since 1938, and is a partner in the law firm of Ely, Barlett, Brown and Proctor. During World War II he served as a Naval lieutenant in the South Pacific. His record of service to the Town of Arlington includes: ten years as a Town Meeting member, a member of the Planning Board for six years, member of the Committee on the Town Manager Form of Government, chairman of the Committee on Amendments to the Town Manager Act, and two years as counsel for the Arlington Housing Authority. He is the moderator of the Pleasant Street Congregational Church and a Corporator of the Symmes Arlington Hospital. In addition, he has been active in youth work and the PTA.

Timothy J. Buckley, candidate for Town Clerk, is sixty-one years of age. A life-long resident of the Town, he graduated from the Arlington public schools. During World War I he served in Naval aviation and later became active in the American Legion. Mr. Buckley is Past Commander and Life Member of Post 39; at present he is Special Service Officer for the American Legion.

This candidate has served Arlington as a Registrar of Voters for 27 years, with 20 years as chairman of this Board of Registrars. In addition, he has been a member of the Arlington draft board for 11 years, serving as chairman for 8 years.

Mr. Buckley is a Trustee of the Arlington Five Cents Savings Bank and a Corporator of the Symmes Arlington Hospital.

The many backers of John O.

Parker and Timothy J. Buckley are proud to present such qualified candidates to the voters of Arlington.

Smith Appointed

The Arlington Board of Selectmen approved the appointment made by Town Manager Edward C. Monahan of T. Gordon Smith, 37 Wellington Street, to the Board of Cemetery Commissioners for a three year term expiring December 22, 1961.

Mr. Smith has been associated for many years with the Mount Auburn cemetery and served for a number of years as a member of the Town Finance Committee.

BOARD MEMBERS

Among those who are board members of the Arlington Visiting Nurses Association who were not present when the NEWS photographer took the picture at a meeting a week ago:

Mrs. Joan K. Berry, Mrs. James P. Carter, Mrs. Ross E. Chapin, Mrs. William Homer, Mrs. John A. Pierce, Mrs. Alfred Weber, Mrs. Sidney Simons, and Mrs. Francis Coughlin.

WHO'S WHO MEMBER

John is associated with the Dixon R. Spears Company, aviation consultants at La Guardia Field, N. Y.

Seek Better Lighting To Prevent Accidents

Town Manager Edward C. Monahan has asked that the street lighting budget be amended to improve lighting conditions on Massachusetts avenue from Franklin street to the Cambridge line and a full report was requested on the accidents which have taken place in the area in recent weeks.

The action by the Board came about after a letter had been read from N. Norcross Stratton, 11 Trowbridge street, urging that an immediate action be taken to remedy the hazardous situation.

Town Manager Edward C. Monahan told those present that better lighting is needed and would cost the Town just over $5,000. The amount was in the budget, but it was taken out. Increased funds could be put into use to increase the lumens from 6,000 to 15,000 in the area.

John H. Parker Resigns From Selectmen's Race

John H. Parker, candidate for Selectman in the Town of Arlington, announced this week that he has resigned from the race and will not file papers. In a letter to this paper this week, Parker stated he was withdrawing in favor of John O. Parker.

The letter reads as follows:

To The Editor:

I would like to use the medium of this newspaper to thank all those fine people who signed my nomination papers for the office of selectman. However, I would like to declare that I am resigning from the race for selectman in favor of John O. Parker, who is far more qualified for the office than myself.

In making this decision I consulted with several fellow members of ACT (Arlingtonians for Civic Thinking) who were of similar mind, and decided that my resignation in favor of John O. Parker was a wise move.

I would like to conclude my letter with an expression of my best wishes to John O. Parker in his campaign for election to the office of selectman and my assurance that ACT will do all in its power to insure the election of the most qualified candidates.

John Harvey Parker.

Arlington Radio, Disaster Crew Pioneer New System

Arlington CD radio men, George Davidson and Paul Haire, met with CD Operations Chief, Kenneth A. Cameron and Charles Johnson, First-Aid unit chief to culminate months of planning on a new communications system.

The radio operators have provided excellent communication for emergencies in the past and are a key group in the CD disaster plan. Practically all the equipment used is personally owned by the radio men, and their services have been coordinated by CD Director, Lieutenant Philip A. Sweeney.

The Arlington First-Aid disaster crew was organized two years ago by the Red Cross First Aid director and trained by Chas. Johnson, Chief instructor of First Aid. This unit is trained to operate on a mobile basis, or to establish medical base units with the hospital equipment stored in town.

A study of disaster work has shown that good, unhampered communication is essential in disaster work. With Arlington's needs in mind a limited area radio service has been planned and will be operative within two months.

Six radio transmitters on the two meter band operated by ten experienced operators will be on call to accompany any disaster team to its location. On location it will be coordinated by the Civil Defense director.

This new system will leave the present six meter radio system free to supplement the police and fire radio as has been successfully done in the past. It will enable the disaster crews to obtain information and centralize information without interference. For example, the identification of injured persons can be immediately transmitted to a central location for information files, and the destination of injured persons can be prepared in advance.

Since the new transmitters are portable it is anticipated that they can be used for a variety of purposes such as lost-man hunts, large fires, heavy snowstorms or any number of situations.

The men working on this project have been involved in volunteer civil defense work for many years. Their experience and service to the town has been invaluable. This new radio communication system is the latest development of many hours of planning and experimentation.

Keenan Withdraws As Candidate For Assessor

Henry E. Keenan has indicated to the Arlington NEWS that it is not his intention to file his necessary nomination papers on January 26th to seek the office of Assessor.

Since circulating the necessary papers and analyzing the preplexing day by day announcements of many candidates for the office of Town Clerk and Selectmen, Mr. Keenan and his advisors feel that the local political situation is altogether too confusing to conduct a formidable campaign for the office of Assessor.

He has indicated this intention early so that those who might desire to contest this office will have sufficient time to file their necessary papers.

He wishes to thank those who endorsed his candidacy but it is the opinion of his campaign committee not to contest this office of Assessor at this time.

Aiken, Allen Spark Locals To 3-1 Win Over Stoneham

Arlington high school's GBI entry pulled away from two of its rivals and held its three point lead as the result of the games played at the Boston Arena Saturday.

High scoring Paul Aiken rattled in 2 of Arlington's three markers as the locals pulled away from a scrappy Stoneham team in the second period.

The win gave the highest scoring team in the lead an 8-1 mark for the season and enabled it to hold a three point margin over second place Melrose.

Aiken scored for the first time just before the end of the first period when he hit the drape at 9:45 on an assist from Jack Allen.

Steve Camuso tied the count for the losers at 4:43 of the second period. Camuso batted in his own rebound from 25 feet out with Antonucci and Muse picking up assists.

Jack Allen put Arlington out front again at 5:42 with Aiken and Webb being credited with assists.

Aiken scored his second marker at 8:53 of the same period with Chisholm getting the assist to salt the decision for the Arlington club.

Meanwhile in other games, Melrose knocked three points away when it lost to Arlington a week ago moved into undisputed possession of second place when it beat streaky Medford 5-1. Medford now has a 3-6 record, winning three in a row after losing its first three games; the Mustangs now have lost three in a row once again.

In another contest, Belmont league leader during the first month of the campaign, went down to its third defeat in five games losing to Cambridge Latin 4-1. The win for Latin moved that club into a fourth place tie with Stoneham one point back of Belmont.

Newton snapped a six game losing skein belting Rindge Tech 4-1. The loss was the ninth of the season for Rindge without a win.

New Jeep Added by Symmes Hospital

A new Kaiser-Willys jeep, obtained through the cooperation of Mr. Ralph McManus of the Mystic Valley Motors, has been added to the maintenance department of Symmes Hospital.

Mr. Everett Van Valkenburgh, administrator, points out that this addition comes at a most opportune time of year, since the steep hill leading to the hospital has presented many transportation problems in bad weather. Many times, during bad storms, it has been necessary to arrange for the pick-up of key personnel, and on occasion, patients have been transported from the bottom of the hill to the hospital.

It is also used for snow-plowing the driveway and parking area, heavy hauling, and many other chores that only a four-wheel drive can do.

Arlington News

Dear Editor:

What has happened to the sincere man who so humbly promised the voters of Arlington to give his best, unselfishly, for the good of education?

He had no political aspiration, so he said, but with his background he could best fill the position on the school committee.

Charles Kent pledged himself for a three-year term on the school committee, yet at the very next election he is ready to dump the job on the school committee for the paid job of selectman.

How sincere was he when he ran for candidate for school committee?

How sincere is he as a candidate for office of selectman?

Is this another stepping stone Mr. Kent?

Voters of Arlington, it is time to wake up. Let us not let this type of candidate bulldoze us again.

Let's Lock The Door First

This week's entry into the high school where papers were scattered and pins taken from fire doors certainly points up the fact that some type of added protection, possibly in the form of added lighting and or 24 hour around the clock custodians might be needed at the local schools.

Although only lesser damage was caused in this break, and at the recent Hardy break the time may come in the near future when this damage may become more severe.

However, the most serious factor in the most recent of school damage at the high school brings more concern for the life and limb of youngsters attending classes the day after such a break. We refer of course, to the taking out of pins in the fire doors which could allow the doors to fall onto anyone touching them. Fortunately, however, in this particular case, the pins were discovered before anyone was hurt.

But, as we see it the time to act is now, let's attempt to lock the barn door before the horse is stolen. Let's not wait until someone is killed or a serious theft takes place before we act.

A JOB WELL DONE

A familiar face will be missing from around the table at School Committee meetings in Arlington after the March election.

M. Norcross Stratton, who has served on the local Board since 1926 and had been named chairman of the board nine different times, announced this week that he would not seek re-election at the annual Town Election two months hence.

To you, Mr. Stratton, this paper, and we feel we are echoing the sentiments of the entire community, say thank you for a job well done.

A RESOLUTION

Whereas, the last long sleep has deprived us of one of our most honored and valued public officials, whose unpretentious virtues, kindness, sincerity, honesty and unparalleled character endeared him to all, and

Whereas, through his exemplary life, devotion to church, family and duty, his individual independence and rugged individuality has left an inspiring example and a deep influence for others to follow.

Now, Therefore, be it resolved that the Board of Selectmen in regular session assembled this 12th day of January, 1959, do herewith record their profound sorrow at the untimely passing of James J. Golden, Town Clerk of the Town of Arlington, Massachusetts, and express their deep appreciation for the many years of valued service rendered to the Town in his ever genial manner and for his readiness to assist all those who sought his aid, and

Be it further resolved, that a copy of this resolution be forever inscribed upon the Town Records, and a copy thereof, properly inscribed, be given to the immediate family of James J. Golden; and that a copy be permanently displayed in the Town Clerk's Office, which he administered so ably, and finally that a copy be presented to the next Town Meeting for adoption as a token of the high esteem with which our former Town Clerk was regarded.

Babson Discusses

GRAVITY

Exclusive NEWS Feature

Babson Park, Mass. — Everyone knows the force of gravity. The baby learns it when he first falls to the floor; the child learns it when he slides down the stair banister; and so it goes. I got one of my main lessons when I worked for the Adirondack Power Company at Niagara Falls, New York. The greatest illustration in the world is at Kariba Gorge, on the Zambezi River in Africa, where I have been in the past few months.

HARNESSING GRAVITY

Gravity, like electricity, will some day be harnessed as a source of cheap power. It is true that we now do not know what gravity is or where it comes from. Gravity waves go through buildings just as do radio waves, which we also know little about. We do not know where electricity comes from or how it travels. With all the power it possesses, we cannot see electricity or magnetism.

Gravity is the only known physical force that cannot yet be retarded. We can insulate against heat or cold; we can shut off light by pulling a window shade or closing a blind; but retarding gravity even 10 per cent has thus far been impossible. Of course, no one wants to eliminate it 100 per cent, as we would rise to the moon without it, whether we wanted to or not!

ANTI-GRAVITY STUDIES

It is, however, very important that the downpull of gravity be regulated or partially insulated. Certain airplane companies are now feverishly working on this problem. The U. S. Defense Department is hoping that Russia will not discover the solution before we do. A partial insulation of gravity would revolutionize the making of rockets, missiles, and all "sputniks" or "juniks." Its regulation could also render partial relief to the 10,000,000 U. S. citizens who suffer from arthritis, bursitis, or other rheumatic troubles.

Therefore I am especially interested in the educational work which the Gravity Research Foundation of New Boston, New Hampshire is doing. Here is a humble organization which is trying to discover a means of preventing people from "getting tired" when working in factories, homes, or stores. As air-conditioning adds so much to the well-being of people during the hot weather, a slight retarding of the force of gravity in the factory and home would do much to keep manual workers and mothers from "getting tired" at their jobs.

GETTING OVERTIRED IS DANGEROUS

Most colds and many illnesses are now caused by getting overtired. Every physician will tell you this. We never "catch cold" when we are rested and healthy and have proper sleep and diet. Even shopping is a tiresome chore. Think how the stores where gravity could be retarded would get the patronage! Moreover, the stores would be able to regulate this gravity pull by a thermostat, letting it be "natural" in the morning and decreasing its pull toward the end of the day when everyone feels tired.

I believe that investors should be interested in the studies of the Gravity Research Foundation. The total efficiency of every plant would naturally speed up if the workers did not "get tired" during the latter part of the day. Time studies will prove this. I further believe that "getting tired" is a basic cause of many strikes which are so destructive both to good will and to profits. Regulation of the gravity pull would do much for industrial peace. Fatigue is the great enemy of man.

INCREASING SALES

Let me conclude by referring to my own experience. It is very hard for any one to sell me anything—land, stocks, merchandise, or even an idea, when I am tired. If this is true of me, it should be true of 75,000,000 other adults in the U. S. Think how sales of all kinds would increase if, upon going into a store, we would feel refreshed and anxious to buy. Of course, the ability to regulate gravity pull by a thermostat and thus prevent people from getting tired has not yet been achieved. Neither has a cure for cancer and other scourges; but I can assure readers all these are on the way.

Alistair Cooke, TV Host Guest of Honor at Dinner

Alistair Cooke, internationally famed host of TV's "Omnibus" program, was guest of honor and a speaker at the opening dinner of the Massachusetts 1959 Heart Fund.

The dinner, which is attended annually by nearly 1000 cardiologists and lay leaders, will be held on Wednesday, January 28, at 7 p.m. in the Hotel Somerset, Boston.

Cooke, described by one critic as "the century's foremost interpreter of America," and Dr. Paul Dudley White, consultant to President Eisenhower and elder statesman of cardiology, will be among head table guests at the annual event.

The dinner signals the beginning of a February-long campaign to raise money to battle diseases of the heart and circulation, which bring more deaths in Massachusetts than all other causes combined.

Cooke, a native of Manchester, England, was graduated from Jesus College, in Cambridge. He came to the United States in 1932 and studied dramatics at Harvard and Yale. Returning to London, he became widely known for his trans-Atlantic broadcasts. In 1937, he came to the United States and became a citizen.

From Beacon Hill

BY JAMES G. COLBERT

Former Boston Post Political Editor

Present indications on Beacon Hill are that a majority of the Democratic legislators will vote for Governor Furcolo's limited 3 per cent sales taxbill, as they did in 1957.

One thing that points up strikingly is that the adoption of a party platform at a political convention comes pretty close to being a total waste of time.

A platform commands little attention at the time it is being considered and practically none after it is approved.

A plank inserted in the platform adopted by the Democratic State Convention last June reaffirmed the opposition of the Democratic party to a sales tax.

The action was just as silly then as it appears now because the very delegates voting for the renomination of Governor Furcolo and for the platform knew that if Furcolo were reelected he probably would renew his fight for a limited sales tax to get some of the money needed to finance the operation of the State government.

A strange aspect to the situation at the time was that a majority of the delegates to the convention might have stood with Furcolo on the sales tax issue if they had been permitted to vote on the matter.

But party leaders were anxious to avoid any floor fight over the sales tax. The disposition of the delegates was to push the platform through and get it out of the way so they could go on to more important business.

Few delegates, at the time had any idea what was in the platform except for the general expression of opposition to the sales tax.

As a result a situation now is created in which a Democratic Governor and most of the Democratic leaders in the Legislature are preparing to launch a fight for a sales tax to which the Democratic party is on record as opposed.

Opponents to the sales tax are certain to seize on that plank in the Democratic platform as an argument against the Governor's bill, and a small number of Democratic legislators will use it as an excuse for voting against Furcolo's proposal.

It is a situation which could have been avoided if the persons who drafted the platform had been a little more realistic in their thinking.

While Furcolo is generally considered to have a better chance of getting the sales tax than he did in 1957, there is no question but that he will need all the help he can get and that he might wind up by making a stronger showing than two years ago but still lose.

It is difficult to see how the official Democratic organization can remain apart from a battle in which a Democratic Governor will be the central figure.

Troublesome Problem

Cries of anguish from wage-earners will be heard from Boston to North Adams, if, as is generally expected, the State Legislature approves Governor Furcolo's recommendation that the State withholding tax be made retroactive to Jan. 1.

One of the troublesome problems which will confront members of the legislative committee on taxation will be to devise some method for deducting the State income withholding taxes for the period which will have elapsed before the law becomes effective.

Feb. 1, is about the earliest date by which the withholding measure can complete its journey through the legislative mills and reach Governor Furcolo's desk. It is quite possible that it might be the middle or latter part of Feb. before the withholding bill finally is enacted into law.

Assuming that the new law goes into effect Feb. 1, how does the State collect the back income taxes for the month of January?

The simplest solution would be to deduct all the taxes in a lump sum from the first pay envelope a worker receives after the law becomes effective.

An obvious drawback to such a procedure is that many persons would offer angry objection to having five weeks of taxes withheld from one week's wages.

It's true that in most instances the State income tax deductions will be small. The smaller they are, however, the more modest will be the salary of the person involved, and the less able will he be to withstand the subtraction of taxes for a five-week period.

Republican legislators are planning to capitalize on this situation by urging a forgiveness clause so that the taxes would be deducted from the time the law goes into effect and would be wiped out for the prior period from Jan. 1.

A good many Democrats will be faced with a difficult dilemma when they are confronted with that amendment.

Even if a procedure is worked out whereby two weeks' taxes are deducted from each week's pay until an employee catches up with his obligations, they're going to get plenty of complaints from President Eisenhower should fire irate constituents.

Governor Furcolo has made remarkable progress in a period of a little more than a week toward breaking down opposition to his limited sales tax bill.

One development in the Governor's favor was the general reaction to the program suggested by ADA leaders as a substitute for a sales tax.

Many persons who are cold to the idea of a sales tax found the ADA alternative even more objectionable.

The strategic way to battle the sales tax, of course, is to follow a strictly negative approach and direct strenuous opposition to it without suggesting anything else to take its place.

In fairness to the ADA spokesmen, it should be pointed out that they didn't employ those tactics. They opposed the sales tax, as they have a perfect right to do, but they didn't duck the real issue, as so many politicians do. They advanced a positive program of their own which they felt would be preferable to a sales tax.

That is the intelligent, straightforward way in which to argue and thresh out this issue. Even those who disagree with the ADA should respect its position and the attitude it has taken.

However, the ADA may have done more good than harm to Governor Furcolo's sales tax campaign. It has pointed up the fact that if we don't get a sales tax we will get some other additional taxes—if the money is to be raised which Furcolo says is needed to balance the State budget.

No comprehensive poll on the matter has been taken, but a majority of the persons queried by this writer, while making no secret of the fact that they were unenthusiastic about a sales tax, indicated that they preferred it to the alternatives proposed by the ADA.

Raised Eyebrows

A recent speech in New Bedford by John Fisher, former administrative assistant and top political aide to U. S. Senator Leverett Saltonstall, caused a clicking of political eyebrows which must have had echoes as far as Washington.

Fisher, who certainly would be regarded as friendly to the Eisenhower administration on the basis of his association with Senator Saltonstall and his service in the latter's office, in commenting on his observations during a trip to the Middle East was severe in his criticism of both the State Department and our foreign service in that part of the world.

He declared that the State Department is disliked and distrusted, that the foreign service personnel is considered "fearfully ill-equipped to deal with the people and problems among which they work."

Fisher said that our foreign service personnel is considered "fearfully ill-equipped to deal with the people and problems among which they work."

Fisher said that our foreign service is inadequate to meet America's vital needs abroad and that the State Department almost

Polio May Break Out In 20-40 Group In 60's

The next epidemic? There aren't supposed to be any more epidemics of polio. The Salk vaccine.

Sure, the Salk vaccine. It's wonderful. In fact, it's even more effective against the polio viruses, paralytic and non-paralytic than most experts hoped it would be. Latest figures show that it's 87 per cent effective if three shots of it are taken.

Well then, what's this talk about the next epidemic of polio? It'll quite probably come.

"It may come as soon as 1960 or 1961," says Dr. Arthur W. Trott, one of the polio experts at the Children's Medical Center in Boston. "If it does come, it'll break out in the 20 to 40 year age group."

But why? Polio's licked. The Salk vaccine.

Sure, the Salk vaccine. "The trouble is," Trott explains, "that 44,000,000 Americans under the age of 40 still haven't had as much as a single shot of the vaccine. It can't help them if it's standing around in vials instead of being injected into their arms to produce the antibodies that can blunt an attack of polio virus, if and when it comes."

Older Groups Targets

"I don't expect an epidemic among youngsters. Millions of them have already had their shots and many of them have had boosters, too. Furthermore, as babies reach the age at which the shots should be given they generally get them. It's the older groups who are the targets of the next polio epidemic—and who will be the victims. They haven't taken their shots."

That's only one reason why The National Foundation, which backed Dr. Salk with funds provided by the March of Dimes, is still vitally concerned with polio and its victims. The National Foundation has just expanded its vast research program to find cures or preventives for birth defects, arthritis and virus diseases, but it is still waging a relentless battle against polio.

The day may come when the number of polio victims become so negligible that The National Foundation will not have to provide patient care or rehabilitation for them.

But that day is a long way off. "Here, at the Children's Medical Center," Dr. Trott says, "we are still rehabilitating and training 5000 to 6000 polio victims, probably about two thirds of all the victims in New England requiring such care. They need braces, they need to be taught how to use weak muscles, they need surgery."

Well, that can't take very long ... can it?

"No, not very long," Dr. Trott says. "Maybe 14 to 16 years."

Fourteen to sixteen years? "Just to take care of the victims of the 1955 polio epidemic," he says. "It takes that long to rehabilitate some of the victims. Some, of course, will never be rehabilitated. We do the very best we can for them—and then we can do no more. There's a little boy in Everett, All he has is a flicker of muscle in his right arm. The rest of him is paralyzed."

"What can we do for him? Not much, maybe. But nobody would want us to stop trying. And we're hoping that perhaps we can adapt him to the 'artificial muscle' The National Foundation scientists are developing."

"With the 'artificial muscle' he may be able to lift things or put them down."

That ought to make folks who haven't had their Salk shots hurry out and get them right away.

"Folks just don't," the doctor says. "They know people are killed by polio and paralyzed by polio and weakened by polio. They know the Salk Vaccine, though still being perfected by Dr. Salk, is a great defense against polio. But they still won't go out and get their shots. And we can't drive them to do it."

Yes, but an epidemic? "Remember Detroit last summer?" Dr. Trott asks.

Detroit? Oh yes yes, Detroit. An epidemic—581 cases and 14 deaths. The National Foundation chapter there quickly brought up 100,000 shots of Salk vaccine and spent $6500 for hypodermic needles. March of Dimes officials estimate the polio expenses in Detroit will cost over $1,000,000 for the year.

And the next epidemic of polio—Where will it strike? How many lives will it take? How many lives will it ruin? Who can count the cost—in money?

OPEN ALL YEAR
Hours 11:30 to 9:00 p.m. Daily

A year ago the January meeting of the Garden Club was "snowed out!" This year, a sunny, comfortable day brought a large number of members including the waiting list to the meeting held in Junior Library Hall at 2 p.m.

Mrs. John N. Loud presided at the business meeting.

Plans for Valentine gifts for shut-ins and patients at the Nursing homes in Arlington were discussed. This year the Club voted not to send the Christmas Baskets as so many gifts were received at that time by the patients. Mrs. Leslie Moriarty and her committee are working to complete plans for distributing remembrances from the Garden Club on Feb. 14.

Several invitations were received by the Club; from the League of Women Voters to their anniversary meeting and from their meeting on February 26. The Conservation Committee of the Massachusetts Federation of Garden Clubs will hold a meeting on Feb. 2 at Horticulture Hall. Coffee will be served from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. followed by a speaker.

Mrs. Wesley A. McSorley, Jr., Program chairman, presented colored slides taken by members showing gardens both local and from as far away as Vancouver and Haiti. Very interesting were slides of Flower Shows both past and as recent as the June show at the Jason Russell House. Among those whose pictures were shown were: Mrs. John J. Cox, Mrs. Frank L. Lincoln, Mrs. Frederick O. Johnson, Mrs. Alfred C. Bridges, Mrs. George Pappas, Mrs. Frank F. Hines, Mrs. Walter Clark and Mrs. Wesley A. McSorley, Jr.

Do You Believe
In Buying
Shoes At Sales?

Yes, if the purchase, fulfills the following requirements: (1) — The shoe must fit — bargain or no bargain. It is no bargain if it blesses your toes with corns.

(2) — The second requirement is that you can use the shoes. Some people spend to save if the price seems right.

By the way, our Semi-Annual Sale is now going on. Plenty of styles, sizes and bargains galore. So won't you stop in to see me?

If you can't make it today, the sale will run the balance of the month. On sale are Buster Browns, Jumping Jacks, Trolleying, Naturalizers, Sandler, Roblee and Pedwin shoes.

TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor:

I am DOROTHY KELLEHER MEEHAN. In last week's edition I announced my candidacy for the School Committee of this town, as well as my personal and education background. The school committee's function is one of policy making. When electing one to this office the intelligent voter will know the candidate's opinions, mental aptitude, and ability to convey ideas, for they shall be the basis of the give and take of the school board meeting, out of which will evolve the collective opinion or policy of that body. That policy should encompass the aims of education, and the means by which those aims can be best accomplished in keeping with the desires and the financial ability of the community supporting the institutions of learning.

In a town the size of Arlington it is a physical impossibility for a candidate to make himself known to every voter, but he can make himself available to the public. The best opportunities afforded the public to see a candidate are at the School Committee Candidates Night sponsored by the Council of PTA's and at the Candidates Night conducted by the League of Women Voters. However, the time allotted to a candidate at these affairs is, of necessity, so short that the voter can do little more than ascertain that the candidate does not have "two heads and a tail".

Thus it is that one comes to realize that the local newspapers are indeed the guardians of democracy for through them a candidate must make himself known, and the public must come to know the candidate, and, more particularly, his ideologies. Hence, thru the medium of these papers, because of their desire to help the people of this community to attain excellence in their schools, I shall publish a series of articles expressing my views and beliefs concerning the aims of education, and the methods by which I feel those aims can be best accomplished.

To The Editor:

This letter is written with the purpose of familiarizing the townspeople of Arlington with a new local organization. In name, it is "ACT". This is an abbreviation of "Arlingtonians for Civic Thinking". It is a non-profit, non-partisan organization, whose purpose is to point out the qualifications of the candidates that the Arlington voter might elect the most qualified candidates into office. The best way to do such would be to join our group. This can be accomplished by contacting Mr. William C. Wettergreen, "ACT" Secretary at 23 Clark St., Arlington. The resident telephone number of "ACT" is MI 8-4177.

Our other officers are: Chairman, Stanley S. Locke Vice Chairman, John H. Parker Nominating Chairman, Robert A. McSorley

We shall put questions relative to the campaign before the voters through the media best available to us. Perhaps the best way of all is this "letters to the editor's column" which is an excellent example of our American democracy and heritage.

Our eventual hope is to study the qualifications and capabilities of all the candidates. Any candidate concerned with "ACT's" workings and endorsements will kindly forward their intentions and qualifications to our secretary. Regardless of this, we shall make a careful study of every candidate in a solid attempt to come up with the names of the best possible candidates for the ultimate consideration and benefit of our townspeople.

We shall not hesitate to ask public questions of candidates in this column. In this way we can best determine the true worth and intentions of the people seeking our favor.

Very truly yours,
William C. Wettergreen

Mothers Of Twins To Hear Johnson, McDevitt Jan. 26

William J. Johnson, of Dorchester, Vice President of The U. S. Kidney Disease Foundation, Vice President of the New England Kidney Disease Foundation, and charter member of the Foundation; and Daniel J. McDevitt, Executive Director of the New England Kidney Disease Foundation, will address The Mothers of Twins Association of Boston and Surrounding Communities, and fathers of twins, at the next monthly meeting Monday, Jan. 26, in Robbins Memorial Library (downstairs meeting hall), 700 Mass. avenue, Arlington, 8 p.m.

Johnson is Assistant Chief of Boston Urban Development Authority. McDevitt, former Boston School Committee member for 14 years (Chairman of the Committee from 1942 to 1947), stated that 105,000 persons in Massachusetts have kidney disease. Since so many victims are children, and since kidney transplants between twins have made news headlines, fathers will be special guests at the meeting, open to all parents of twins, regardless of residence.

The film, "Children with Nephrosis", will be shown, and a question period will conclude the program, followed by refreshments. "A child afflicted with this disease, prior to four years ago, had a fifty per cent chance of survival, and there has been only slight improvement in that percentage," McDevitt asserted. A public relations consultant and corporate trustee of Children's Hospital, he has been Boston Chairman and Director of Children's Hospital Building Fund, Chairman of City of Boston Salvation Army, Com-
